

CANDIDATE AND WORKERS LINE UP TOGETHER

MARION, Sept. 20.—Senator Harding, in a letter to a number of Brockton, Massachusetts, labor men, who had addressed him saying they opposed the League of Nations, said: "This has the ring of real Americanism, and I am delighted with the testimony that organized labor has correctly estimated the significance of this issue."

"On this issue organized and all other labor and all citizens are going to get together to end the submergence of our nation in internationalism. We are all Americans first."

"Our country will do its full share in the world in its own way and time, but not under orders of any super government dominated by alien interests."

Harding today was greeted by 400 Grand Army veterans enroute to the Indianapolis encampment.

WEATHER REPORT
OREGON—Tonight and Tuesday, occasional rain.

LAYING TILE
FOR ACADEMY

The laying of tile for the superstructure of Sacred Heart academy started Saturday and is progressing rapidly. Enough tile has been laid to show that the building when completed will be an imposing one and a distinct addition to the city. The tile used is manufactured in Salem and the academy building is the first large structure in which it has been used in this part of the state.

One of the things that is already attracting a great deal of favorable comment is the concrete foundation of the building. It is one of the finest examples of concrete work, if not the finest, to be found in the city. It was laid by A. F. Graham and he is receiving many well deserved compliments on the excellence of his work.

In Finland a housewife buys a new broom every morning. This is a necessary extravagance, since she sweeps her whole house every day, and the broom she uses is just a bundle of fresh green, birch leaves, whose natural dampness keeps up the dust.

SAYS ENGLAND CANNOT ESCAPE STAIN OF MURDER

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Terrence MacSwiney, Lord mayor of Cork, is growing weaker. This is the 39th day of his fast. In a message "to Irishmen," issued today, he said: "If this cold-blooded murder is pushed through it will leave a stain on the name of England that is without parallel."

CAL. POPULATION
IS 3,426,536

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The population of the state of California for 1920 was announced Saturday by the census bureau as 3,426,536, an increase since 1910 of 1,048,987, or 44.1 per cent.

The figures show that California has outgrown Indiana and Georgia. The state's growth is larger both numerically and relatively than that of any state the 1920 population of which has thus far been announced, and its numerical increase exceeds the combined increase of Massachusetts, Indiana and Georgia.

California, which ranked as twelfth state 10 years ago, will now rank in tenth place or above. The numerical increase of the state is the largest in its history.

Revised figures for San Francisco gave the population of that city as 596,875, an increase of 59,764, or 11.5 per cent. The figure previously announced was 598,410.

California had a population of 2,377,549 in 1910, ranking it as twelfth most populous state in the union. It showed an increase of 892,496, or 60.1 per cent, in the 10 years ending with 1920, having had the largest growth numerically in its history, the number being more than double the increase in any previous decade.

In area California ranked as second largest state in the union in 1910, with a land area of 155,652 square miles, making its population average 15.3 per square mile.

HARDING STRONG FOR WESTERN DEVELOPMENT

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 20.—New hope for the west, whose reclamation and development have been retarded, if not entirely blocked, during the past seven years, was seen here in Senator Warren G. Harding's definite pronouncement of the Roosevelt policy of conservation and development.

Speaking before the republican governors, Senator Harding suggested that many former service men might be provided homes in the undeveloped western country, and declared the duties of reclamation and development rest both on the state and federal authorities, and on public as well as private financing.

The republican nominee drew an analogy between present conditions and those following the Civil war, and declared that in his opinion many war veterans would be glad to open the unsettled regions of the west as a reward for their service to their country. He warned of peril to the nation unless agricultural development can be substituted for the continually growing urban powers.

Paying his tribute to Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Harding said: "It was against profligacy that Roosevelt raised his voice and exercised the veto power. He started the great reclamation movement. Roosevelt performed a great service to the nation, and what he did for his time we must carry forward to the future."

CALIFORNIANS
COMING HERE TO INVESTIGATE

REDDING, Cal., Sept. 20.—Five big men in irrigation enterprises down the Sacramento valley, accompanied by two engineers, arrived in this city Friday and left Saturday for Fall River Mills and will continue their trip for 10 days, hunting for more water and more power in the northern part of this state and the southern part of Oregon.

In the party were George E. Springer of San Francisco, of the Alameda Sugar company; William Durbrow of Willows, president of the Glenn-Colusa Irrigation district; E. W. Armfield of Woodland, president of the Conway Irrigation district; Charles Lambert of Willows, secretary of the Glenn-Colusa district; Jesse Poundstone of Sacramento, president of Reclamation District No. 198, and Fred H. Tibbets and Warren Egbert of San Francisco, civil engineers.

Starting at Willows they visited the Iron Canyon dam site on the northern border of Tehama county. Their purpose in making the trip is to study the water situation and investigate first hand possible storage reservoirs on the Pitt and even over the line near Klamath lake in Oregon. The possibilities of diverting Klamath river into Sacramento valley also will be studied on the spot.

From Fall River Mills the party will go to Klamath Falls. The reconnaissance will consume at least 10 days.

The party also represents the Sutter Basin project, the Natamas district and other large irrigation enterprises down state, as well as representing large consumers of electrical power.

COUNTY FAIR
EXHIBITS ARE COMING FAST

Next Friday the Klamath county fair will open at the county farm four miles out of Klamath Falls. From present indications, there will be a first class display of products from all of Klamath county. The livestock section of the farm bureau has been active in lining up a good exhibit of livestock. From a present showing there will perhaps be 65 or 70 animals on display which in itself will make a very good showing. Many of these animals are very valuable.

Agricultural exhibits from all sections of the county will also be there in a goodly number. Perhaps the finest display of all will be that shown by the Boys' and Girls' clubs throughout the county. The 200 club workers, in nearly every case have something on exhibit. It is expected that the best of this club work will also be sent to the state fair at Salem next week.

The entertainment features of the fair this year will include good races every day on a track of land which has been constructed on the farm for that purpose. Further races and a full line of exhibits and one thing which every one should be sure to see will be the parade and review on the last afternoon, the boys and girls of the county with their livestock as well as the livestock from many farms.

The fair this year is expected to exceed that of last year in many respects but Klamath county can never have a first class fair until permanent fair grounds are provided for that purpose. There is now a united effort on the part of the community to secure a tract of land for the purpose of erecting suitable buildings and to make a permanent ground. Join in helping make this county fair a success so that the permanent fair may be an assured fact for next year.

FIRST GENERAL
C. OF C. MEETING
TOMORROW EVE

The first membership monthly meeting held under the new management of the Klamath county chamber of commerce will take place tomorrow evening at the council chamber at the city hall.

According to the constitution now in force, section 3 of article 6, "The regular meetings of the chamber for the conducting of business should be held at such a place as may be indicated by the board on the third Tuesday of each month excepting during the months of July and August." Therefore this will be the September meeting of the chamber.

Discussions at this time will be led by prominent citizens and an open discussion encouraging one of the important settlements will be the report of citizens' committee which made the survey of Klamath Falls last spring recommending the housing and sanitation situation. This committee has many very fine things to show as well as many improvements that are yet to be made.

The ladies are particularly active in securing this survey and are therefore cordially invited to attend this meeting. Matters for the importance of the city ordinance which the city has outgrown will also be discussed. The board of directors cordially invite every member of the chamber of commerce and others who are not yet members to attend this meeting.

WILL HANDLE CIRCULATION OF "STARS AND STRIPES"

Louis Wechsler has been appointed Klamath county representative for "Stars and Stripes," the only official paper for enlisted men conducted in France during the war. The paper has many interesting features for service men and for others as well. One of its strong points is the art work of "Wally," who ranks in the van of the country's cartoonists.

WOMAN WANTS
NEWS OF BROTHER

Mrs. W. H. Malone, wife of the county judge of Benton county, has written Mayor Struble to inquire regarding her brother, W. H. Wilson, whom she fears may be one of the unidentified dead of the Houston hotel fire.

Mayor Struble said his daily average of inquiries since the fire had been about three. Most of them he has been able to answer satisfactorily but he has not yet located Wilson.

Those persons knowing their relatives are suffering natural anxiety would relieve local organizations and officials of this burden of investigation if they would write a postcard or send a brief wire telling relatives of their safety.

WOOL SUIT IN CIRCUIT COURT

J. D. Edler against David P. McAuliffe was the first case on the jury calendar in the circuit court, when court convened this morning in the city hall. Work of impaneling a jury continued into the afternoon session. The mill of justice, before finishing grinding the present grist, will try several more suits.

The suit of Edler against McAuliffe is for $832, alleged to be the worth of wool unlawfully taken and held by defendant. Plaintiff claims that when McAuliffe sheared his flock in Lake county there were some of plaintiff's sheep in the band. Their wool went into the McAuliffe clip and hence plaintiff seeks recompense.

Defendant denies the charge entirely, claiming to have no knowledge of the shearing of any of plaintiff's sheep.

He has been a source of trouble to officers for some time and recently served 12 days in jail for annoying conduct toward a woman resident of Mills addition. GRAND JURY OPENS
SESSION TODAY

The jurors are Will Humphrey, L. J. Horton, James Ryan, Bruce Gades, Eugene Spencer, E. M. Leever and J. W. Bryant.

Messrs. Leever and Bryant replace George Biehn and Frank R. Anderson. The slain youth was Mr. Biehn's stepson.

WAGNER OUT OF HOSPITAL
AFTER SERIOUS ILLNESS

Bobbie Wagner, well known boxer, is convalescent after a serious illness with pneumonia. He was in the Klamath General hospital and at the most critical stage of his illness recovery was almost unhoped for. It will be some time before Wagner is in shape to box again. He plans to spend several weeks with Carlo Gianotti on the Gianotti ranch near Dorris, rebuilding his health in the open.

TULE FIRE IS HEADED FOR OREGON SIDE

Report that a big tule fire is in progress just across the California line, directly south of here, was brought here today by Oliver Sly, one of the talemans attending the circuit court session.

The fire is close to the Oregon line and headed into Klamath county. It has rendered practically worthless several thousand acres of tule land, burning all vegetable substance out of the soil, and threatens to ruin thousands of acres more.

Desperate attempts have been made to control the fire, said Mr. Sly, but so far have failed. Two men were badly burned fighting the fire. One settler escaped with his life through presence of mind that caused him to seek refuge in an old well while the flames passed by above him.

A dozen homestead cabins have been wiped out, it was said, and the settlers have sustained heavy loss in land damage.

CAMOUFLAGE
LEADS TO RUIN
SAYS PREACHER

"Camouflage" was the topic of a sermon by Dr. R. J. Reed, Irish evangelist and state superintendent of Baptist missions, at a union meeting last night at the Presbyterian church. The text was the well known scriptural passage, "A man cannot serve two masters," and upon it the speaker built an indictment of modern practice in social and commercial relations so seeking to serve both God and Mammon by calling evil by fair sounding names, in other words camouflaging the truth with a tinsel of sophistry that would make vice and wickedness attractive.

Last night's meeting was the peak of a week of special meetings. Dr. Reed will hold evening meetings during the coming week and appealed to the audience to keep the headway gained throughout the week. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon, between 3 and 4 o'clock Bible study classes will be held at the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Reed is a rapid-fire speaker, whose appeal is somewhat of the Billy Sunday type. He deals with no specific evil-doer but attacks sin en masse. He assured his hearers that during his meetings no personalities would be indulged in and no one need fear to come lest their feelings be hurt by personal criticism.

Otherwise he is much of the Sunday sort, dealing in terse epigrams, but avoiding the Sunday vernacular, except occasionally, as for instance: "The devil gets you into trouble—and then spills the beans."

Disclaiming partisanship—either Republican or Democratic—the speaker said he was for a league of nations or anything else that would prevent war.

"War," he said, "is hell with the lid off."

Automobiles, he said, in connection with the lure of young girls into the embrace of evil, are the devices of the devil.

"One thing cannot be camouflaged," he said, "and that is our own aching hearts. You may camouflage sin but you cannot escape the consequences. The whole modern fabric, he declared, was being undermined by calling 'foul things by fair names.'"

A crowded church heard the address. The song service was a splendid feature of the evening.

MILLERAND WILL ENTER
CONTEST FOR PRESIDENCY

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Premier Millerand today agreed to be a candidate for the French presidency to replace Paul Deschanel, who resigned because of ill health.
